VOLUME 36

OCTOBER, 1965

The newly completed women's dormitory-student union that is to be dedicated at Homecoming, Saturday, October 30.

Editorial

On the last day of April, after the copy had gone to press for the May CLASSIC, startling and unbelievable reports spread across Northwestern's campus. It was a warm day and three students had decided to rush the season a little and go swimming at Sandy Hollow, near Sioux Center. The water was cold and one student, a senior named Barry Boersma, apparently got cramps, cried out, and then sank in the deep water. The other students were not able to reach him.

His body was recovered ninety minutes later by Bill Ludweg, a Dordt College student who was a former frogman for the Canadian Navy. The chapel was hushed the following Monday when a memorial service was held for Barry, for there were very many of the students and the faculty, who felt a personal loss at his sudden departure from this life. He had been an honor student academically; he had been active in dramatics and deputation teams. His intention had been to attend Western Theological Seminary this fall.

We do not have the answer to the question, Why did this happen? Yet what Barry was and what he intended to become have affected the lives of those who knew him, possibly in a degree that a still living Barry could not have. In a sense, the tragedy was a compounded one for Northwestern; for Alice Swart, a lovely sophomore, had died earlier in the school year of a sudden brain hemorrhage.

I wonder, too, about Bill Ludweg and his fellow-students. Are we closer to our sister college Dordt since that April 30, 1965? Less than ten miles separate us, but there are other barriers which need to come down. Does Barry's loss give us a new perspective?

In September Barry's brother enrolled as a freshman here. We don't expect him to be the same in interests or in ability as Barry was, but his coming symbolizes for us a continuation of life. And there are five other Boersmas at home.

The Honorable Charles B. Hoeven, U.S. Congressman for 22 years, spoke briefly at the opening convocation, September 13, and presented a flag to the college which had flown over the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C.

OPENING CONVOCATION

Dr. Donald B. Ward, President of Yankton College, Yankton, South Dakota, was the speaker at the Opening Convocation as the 83rd academic year began on September 13. He spoke on individuality and the small college, asserting that the opportunity for individual attention and individual development is much greater in such colleges as Northwestern and Yankton, not only for their size, but also because of their Christian purposes in education.

In a brief ceremony preceding Dr. Ward's address, former Congressman Charles B. Hoeven presented the student body with a U. S. flag which once flew over the Capitol in Washington, D.C. Student Senate President Doug Schelhaas accepted it on behalf of the students.

Dr. Ward is a native of Boston, Massachusetts, and upon graduation from Northwestern University in 1942 he entered a career in radio and television. In November, 1956, despite success and rapid advancement, he resigned his position in television to enter Chicago Theological Seminary to prepare himself for the Christian ministry. He served as minister of the First Congregational Church of Ravenswood in Chicago, and the Kirk of Bonnie Brae in Denver, Colorado. In 1962, Dr. Ward was elected eighth president of Yankton College. He is the grandson of Dr. Joseph Ward, founder of Yankton College.

GIFTS TO THE LIBRARY

The application of Northwestern College was recently recommended for approval by the Higher Education Facilities Commission of Des Moines for a grant of $22,577 toward library construction. The grant will be used to decrease the present indebtedness on library equipment and furnishings.

A valuable microfilm subscription to the New York Times has been presented to Ramaker Library by the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hubert I. Muilenburg of Orange City. The subscription, which will be microfilm copy of each issue of the Times, will begin in September, with two films being received each month. Each release will be received within five days of the end of the period covered.

An index will be available every two months of material on hand, and a complete index will be available each year classifying and summarizing the news alphabetically by subjects, persons, organizations, and geographical locations. This skillfully condensed and organized service will help to locate facts quickly. It will be facilitated by use of the microfilm reader equipment which is housed in the library.

The donors are Miss Arloa Muilenburg and Mr. Irwin Muilenburg of Orange City, and Mrs. Della Muilenburg Ashby of Chariton. The gift is a living memorial to their parents, who were interested in education.

It is anticipated that other interested individuals will make it possible for Ramaker Library to receive microfilm of the New York Times as far back as the World War II period.

A gift of $500 was also received from the Iowa Public Service Company for the Library Book Fund. The gift was sent through the office of Mr. Ed Ruisch, Vice President of the Iowa Public Service Company, who is a graduate of Northwestern's Academy class of 1916.

FOUNDATION GRANTS

tion has given a matching grant of $1,500 for the purchase of Stereoscopic Dissecting Microscopes. These microscopes are intended for use in the beginning and advanced biology courses, and represent a significant contribution to the equipment facilities of the Biology Department. Dr. Edward Van Eck, head of the Biology Department, is in charge of the equipment.

Northwestern College is one of the 22 members in the Iowa College Foundation to receive a grant from the United States Steel Foundation. The amount of approximately $1,000 granted to Northwestern College is unrestricted as to use. However, it is suggested that the fund will be helpful to train and secure better faculties, or improve facilities and teaching resources, and lead to higher standards and greater strength for higher education.

The College has received a total of $11,853 from the Iowa College Foundation during the 1964-65 academic year. Raymond G. Miller,

ART

A Student Art Exhibit was on display during the month of May in Ramaker Library as part of the annual Fine Arts Festival. The display case in the entrance of the library exhibited eight wood cut prints. Water color, oil paintings, woodcuts, advertising designs, and drawings were displayed on the mezzanine of the library. The show represented class work done during the past two years in the art department. Mr. John Kaericher is head of the department.

BUSINESS

Five members of the Phi Beta Lambda Chapter of Northwestern installed the Emmetsburg Junior College chapter into the National Phi Beta Lambda Association in ceremonies at Emmetsburg. The Northwestern participants were Tom McIlroy, Evie Hulstein, Idelle Steen, Phyllis Jansen, Jerry Lev-ering, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Patton, and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Van Maanen. The Emmetsburg P.B.L. chapter is the second one to be installed into the National Association by the local chapter this year, and the eighth group to join the association from the State of Iowa. In 1963 only two Iowa colleges held memberships in the organization. Phi Beta Lambda is a business organization which aims to encourage business interests and develop a better understanding of the business world.

SPEECH

The Radio and Television Class appeared on Channel 9, KVTU, on June 22. The class, under the direction of Dr. Theora England, presented a program entitled "A Visit on the Campus of Northwestern College."

Several students represented the college at the Tri State Speech Festival at Westmar College, April 24. Heard in the various areas were John Wurpts, Impromptu Speaking on the theme "A Christian College"; Kella Klinker, JoAnn Vander Wilt, and Julie Te Paske, Extemporaneous Speaking; The Readers Theatre group included Nancy Den Hartog, Peter Andringa, John Wurpts, Bernice Van Engen, and Carol Denekas; and four students appeared in the reading of original prose. Dr. Theora England and Professor William Lovelady of the Speech Department also attended the Speech Festival.

DRAMA

"The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams was presented by the Drama Department May 6 and 7. Four senior students capably filled the four roles: Penny Price, Orange City; Dick Welscott, Spring Lake, Michigan; Duane Moret, Hadley, Minnesota; and Sheryl Jansma, Maurice. These four young people have been seen in many college productions. Dr. Theora England was the director.

In its first run, "The Glass Menagerie" won the New York Drama Critics Circle award, one of five major awards won by Williams for his plays. The drama is a memory play, a family portrait laid in an alley tenement. It tells of a mother, her crippled daughter, her dreamy son and a gentleman caller. The play revolves around the mother's intense desire to get her daughter married, and her effort to have her son bring home an acceptable suitor.

EDUCATION

Nine Kappa Beta Kappa members with their sponsors, Professors Florence Huffman and John Rider, attended the Northwest Spring Regional ISEA meeting at Eagle Grove Junior College. Arlan Draayer, Northwestern senior and president of the Northwestern Regional, presided. The theme "The Exceptional Child" was developed by a talk on the State Department

level, setting forth the program according to assistance from the state personnel and the state regulations. The need in Iowa for Directors of Special Education on the county basis, for School Psychologists and Speech Therapists, as well as classroom teachers with special training to work with educable and trainable children was stressed at the conference. The practical side was presented by a local teacher who shared many of her experiences by citing specific examples among the Junior High students with whom she worked in Eagle Grove.

NORTHWESTERN PROSPECTS UNCERTAIN

The Northwestern Red Raiders will be pressed to equal last year's second place finish in the Tri-State Conference. Speed and hustle will have to make up for a lack in size in this year's squad. Key lettermen back from last year's team include Captain Butch King, Orange City, Iowa, who will hold down one halfback position; Gene Perkins, Sioux Rapids, Iowa, a 220 lb. tackle and Doug Korthals, George, Iowa, a hard-running fullback. One outstanding prospect for the Red Raider team this year is quarterback Dean Lamker, a junior college transfer from Elkader, Iowa.

On a 33 member squad there are 14 squad members back from last year's team and 16 freshmen have reported for pre-season drills. Northwestern's football coaching staff has been bolstered this year by the addition of Gordon McKinstrey as an assistant coach. McKinstrey comes to Northwestern after a successful high school coaching career at Lytton, Milford and Hartley, Iowa.

The Raider baseball squad finished their season with a 5-8 record, 4-6 in the conference. The high light of the season came in the last game as the Raiders pulled off a triple play against Dordt College.

The conference meets in tennis and track provided the highlights of the Northwestern College 1965 spring sports season. The Tri State tennis meet was held in Yankton, South Dakota, on May 13, and the track meet, also in Yankton, was run on May 14 and 15.

Sophomore Dave Kleis and freshman Nick Chong combined to win the 1965 conference tennis doubles crown by picking up nine points in the competition. The victories, which placed Northwestern second in team scoring, gave the two boys a perfect record for the season.

Two new records were written in the track record books of the college by Jim Reeverts and Bill Tinant at the meet during the following two days. Reveerts broke his own record in the 120 yard high hurdles by running the event in a time of 15.7 seconds. Tinant put a new record in the books when he ran the 330 yard intermediate hurdles in 44 seconds. Despite their efforts, however, the track squad finished last at the conference meet. Earlier in the year, Ron Fick tied the pole vault record of 11'6" at the Buena Vista - Storm Lake Invitational Meet.

Alumni News

1882 - 1910

A good friend of Northwestern, an alumnus of 1897, the REV. JOHN VAN PEURSEM, died in June at the age of 89. After graduation from Western Theological Seminary, he served churches in Coopersville, Holland, Kalamazoo, and Zeeland, Michigan; Chicago, Illinois; and Redlands, California. He was awarded the Doctor of Divinity degree by Hope College in 1936. Although he retired in 1948, he remained active as a Sunday School teacher and a visitor of the elderly until this year. He was part of the family after whom our Van Peursem Hall is named.

We are thankful to those who sent in information in response to our 1911-1925 installment of the alumni directory printed in the May CLASSIC.

GERRIT WESSELINK, whose commendation from the Air Force we gave in a recent issue, passed away rather suddenly in Washington, D.C. His career as a legal counsel had earned him an important place in the Pentagon. His widow, Marion, and three teen-aged children survive. He was graduated from the academy in 1921.

gan, Illinois, and Iowa. Throughout the years the choir has been known for its high standards in the presentation of fine sacred music in a musicianly and worshipful manner.

RELIGION

"The Nazarene," a program of the life of Jesus in music and poetry, was given by Dr. and Mrs. Charles Kraft of Norton, Kansas in the chapel on April 28. It was sponsored by the Student Christian Fellowship. Some of the poetry was written by Mrs. Kraft. Student groups from Westmar and Dordt Colleges attended the program.

"N" CLUB Newsletter

The N Club is currently conducting its annual Fall membership drive for the 1965-1966 School year. Last year we had 106 dues paying members and it is hoped this number will increase each year. Potential N Club members in Orange City, Maurice, Alton, Boyden, Hull and Sioux Center have been contacted personally and over 300 letters have been mailed to other potential N Club members located throughout the United States. Annual membership dues are $5.00. If any reader of this newsletter is eligible for N Club membership but has not been contacted either personally or by mail, I'd appreciate hearing from you. We have worked hard to get our records up to date but I'm sure we are still missing many who would be eligible for membership.

Last year was an active one for the N Club. We again organized and provided transportation for Northwestern's basketball team to all their out of town basketball games. At each home basketball game coffee was served to N Club members and their guests in the auditorium kitchen. The N Club again sponsored the Iowa High School Boys Sectional and District Basketball Tournaments held in Northwestern's auditorium last spring. The N Club realized $821.25 from this project, which was applied against the indebtedness incurred in constructing the press-box-concession stand at the Northwestern athletic field.

The N Club awarded trophies for the Most Valuable Football Player and Most Valuable Basketball Player as selected by their teammates, at the annual Spring Athletic Banquet. For the first time both awards went to one man—Dave Korver, who was selected to the Tri-State All-Conference teams in both Football and Basketball.

1965 HOMECOMING PLANS

The N Club's annual meeting will be held October 30, 1965, during Northwestern's homecoming. The luncheon is scheduled for 11:45 A.M. at the Village Cafe in Orange City. Three new directors will be elected to replace Don Vander Stoep, Fred Brouwer and Norman Bastemeyer, whose 3-year terms expire this year.

The tradition of honoring and giving special recognition to a former football team will be continued this year by honoring the team of 1928 — Northwestern's first team! Members of that team are: Stanley Duven of Orange City (deceased); Arie Bomgaars of Le Mars, Iowa; Fred Leck of Fullerton, California; Fred Stuart of Sioux City, Iowa; Dr. Dick Vander Wilt of Sibley, Iowa; Al Heemstra of Orange City; John Willard Mouw of Long Beach, California; Rev. Nic Rozeboom of Holland, Michigan; Wilbur De Jong of Maurice, Iowa; Elmer Duisttermars of Sioux Center; Albert Hylkema of Grand Rapids, Michigan; John H. Mulder of Lakewood, California; and Ray Van Wechel of Vinton, Iowa. A special invitation will be extended to these men.

PRESS - BOX PROJECT

The N Club is extremely proud of the press-box-concession stand which was constructed last year. This impressive structure is certainly one of the finest press boxes of any small colleges in the Midwest. Of the total construction cost of $5,000.00 it was necessary for the N Club to borrow $2,450.00. The balance was on hand from previous projects and dues collected last year. After receiving the revenues from last spring's basketball tournaments, $950.00 was paid on the note, leaving a principal balance of $1,500.00.
